Creepy Crawler (Python, SQLAlchemy, Flask, JavaScript, React, Redux, Scrapy, HTML, CSS, AWS)

Live | GitHub

search engine and browser, solo project

- Fielded user search queries through React and Redux in the frontend to yield quick and efficient results upon user input.
- Utilized Scrapy framework to custom build the web crawler and integrated it with Flask via Crochet, allowing asynchronous requests coming from the frontend to be processed.
- Parsed date and time data using regex, spanning JavaScript and Python flavors, providing the user with a precise history log.

Erudite (JavaScript, React, Redux, Express, Sequelize, Cheerio, HTML, CSS)

Live | GitHub

song lyrics finder, solo project

- Used Cheerio framework to build custom scrapers that fetched and processed thousands of lines of seed data from Genius.
- Improved overall UI/UX of the application through the engineering of dynamic operations using React and Redux, such as adding and deleting song information.
- Outfitted the application with a song search functionality and a context menu with the option to copy any input from a user's added song, all with native JavaScript.

Finstagram (Python, SQLAlchemy, Flask, JavaScript, React, Redux, HTML, CSS, AWS)

Live | GitHub

Instagram clone, group project

- Integrated AWS and applied extensive use of React modals to effectively clone the UX of Instagram.
- Undergirded follow/unfollow functionality via one-to-many/many-to-one relationships in the SQLAlchemy backend.
- Implemented, with minimal use of external libraries, pixel perfect authentication, feed, explore, and profile pages.

Arcade Academy (JavaScript, Express, Sequelize, Cheerio, Pug, CSS)

Live | GitHub

video game finder, group project

- Used Sequelize, an ORM, enabling my team to write advanced and consistent Postgres queries—to store and manipulate critical data about the user including games they've played and their wishlist.
- Enabled functionality for reviews, search, and interaction between users within games through the use of Pug and Express.
- Built a crawler with Cheerio that traverses a site's links, depth first, and scrapes all crucial seed data for every game genre.
